

SUNDAY BASEBALL DEFEATED AGAIN

Seven Aldermen Voted Against Ordinance Presented By Alderman Purvis—Council Chambers Crowded—Many Speakers For Both Sides.

Not since the days of old when common council meetings were worth while going to and seats were at a premium, had there been such a crowd as was present at the public hearing Tuesday night when Sunday baseball was again voted down, this time by a vote of 7 to 6. Not only was every seat outside the rail taken, but several seats within were also occupied. The rear of the room was packed, even out in the hall some were standing on benches and chairs, while the ante rooms on each side of the council chamber, were also filled. Those in favor of Sunday baseball were easily in the majority, and at times in spite of President Dittus's orders, let their feelings run away with them by applauding those who spoke on their side, or showing disapproval to remarks of their opponents.

Every alderman was present when President Dittus called the meeting to order and instructed City Clerk Fred Doremus to read the ordinance introduced at a previous meeting by Alderman Purvis of the Thirteenth, legalizing Sunday baseball with an admission fee. This ordinance provided that one of the ordinance contesting at such a game held in the city on Sunday must be a home team. Following the reading of the ordinance, a letter was read from the official board of the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church, signed by Frank S. Hyatt, asking to go on record as being opposed to the ordinance and also a petition from the First Presbyterian and Roundout Presbyterian churches with 155 signatures disapproving Sunday baseball. But one petition was received favoring the measure, that of voters of the Thirteenth ward carrying 54 signatures.

Leaper First Speaker. The meeting was then thrown open, and on motion of Alderman Schick those opposed were given the privilege of the floor first. Dr. J. Leaper, pastor of the First Dutch Reformed Church, was the first speaker. Dr. Leaper said that he had taken a trip covering 25,000 miles studying sociology and that after returning he had made the statement that one American was equal to six foreigners. The recent war, he said, had proved his statement to be correct. The speaker then said that he did not believe there was a man in the room who favored Sunday baseball; that they did not know what they were advocating. The difference between people of this age and their early ancestors who were heathen, said he, was the keeping of the Sabbath day. Dr. Leaper also pointed out the advantages gained in health and physique by resting on Sunday. He said that the Sabbath was made for man and not for God, but that the trouble with most people was that they were too stupid or too great fools to know this. He appealed to the aldermen to vote against the ordinance.

The second speaker to oppose the ordinance was the Rev. A. K. Fuller of the Wurts Street Baptist Church. Rev. Fuller said that he did not ask his people to present a petition opposing Sunday baseball because he was sure that if he asked each of his 400 members everyone would have said "no" to the measure. He said that he would not argue for or against the merits of the bill, because the bill had no merits. No measure, said he, that seeks to break down the religious life of a city has merits in it. He said that he had heard earlier in the day that the question was already settled that the ordinance was already secured to vote for the measure to carry it, but that he refused to believe so. Dr. Fuller asked the aldermen to quickly consider who were in favor and who were opposed to the measure. Surely, said he, all the mothers are against it, all the moral forces of the city are against it, the teachers of the public schools and the members of the Sunday schools oppose it, all the churches are opposed to it and the working men who desire a quiet day for rest are against it. On the other hand there are two classes who are in favor of the bill. Those who seek to make profit out of the passage of the ordinance by gate receipts, and those who desire to spend the Lord's day in pleasure. Dr. Fuller pleaded with the aldermen in the interest of the welfare of the city not to put a stamp of legality on a law for this city which seeks to break down the moral and religious life of the city.

Gives Five Reasons. W. G. Muhlemann, Scout Executive also spoke in opposition to Sunday baseball. He gave five reasons why he was opposed to the measure. First, that it is as fatal to the most sacred principles of American history. Second, that any measure which breaks the sanctity of the Sabbath day is a disgrace to the flag. Third, it is in keeping with the law of Soviet Russia and the American Reds. Mr. Muhlemann explained that he did not mean by saying this that he was favoring the bill should be passed with the Reds, but that it is a measure favored by every Red. Fourth, it would give

WATCHFUL WAIT WILL CONTINUE

Washington Agrees That There is No Need for Any Action in Mexican Situation as Americans are Safe and Trade Continues—Carranza Still Missing.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Washington, May 12.—The United States will sit tight and watch the Mexican revolution for the time being. This policy has been tentatively agreed upon today by administration officials following the meeting of President Wilson and his cabinet yesterday.

While reports to the government indicate that some leaders of the revolutionary government desire to ask recognition of the United States, it is believed here that this step will not be taken until after a provisional president has been selected for Mexico. The administration is of the opinion that this government need not act hastily in the matter of extending recognition to a de facto government but should await the establishment of a stable government.

Trade with Mexico has not been interrupted during the revolution, according to the best information received here and the administration is inclined to allow matters to go on as they have been going since the revolutionary movement started.

All reports received by the state department have failed to show that Americans in Mexico have been menaced by the revolutionary movements and with American warships on both coasts of Mexico and American marines within striking distance, administration officials believe that this government can well afford to watch events for a time.

The whereabouts of President Carranza is still a mystery here. Conflicting reports as to his capture and execution and escape have been received. It is believed at the revolutionary agency that Carranza is either at large or in the custody of a rebel guard. The revolutionary agency has consistently maintained that President Carranza will not come to harm at the hands of the rebels, but will be permitted to leave the country.

If Carranza escapes from Mexico he will make his way to Guatemala or Salvador and there endeavor to raise an army for the reconquest of Mexico and the establishment of a Latin-American union, according to reports reaching here today through non-revolutionary channels.

This plan, the reports state, is a modification of Carranza's original scheme for the abolishment of the present Pan-American union and the establishment of a Latin-American union which should have as one of its principle tenets "protection of Latin-America from the encroachments of the United States."

By Telegram to The Freeman. Rome, May 12.—Steps were taken today towards the formation of a new ministry following the resignation of Premier Nitti and his government. The downfall of the Nitti cabinet was brought about by the Socialists, although it had been expected. It is regarded as possible that Signor Nitti may be asked by King Victor Emanuel to form a new ministry although he is under severe criticism from certain quarters because of his leniency towards the rioting strikers in northern Italy.

GRANTS FOUR BUS LINE PETITIONS

Public Service Commission Acts Favorably on Applications of Kleis And Klemm To Saugerties, Myers And Kidd In City Streets.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Albany, May 12.—The Public Service Commission, Second District, yesterday granted certificates of public convenience and necessity for the operation of four auto bus lines out of Kingston.

Peter Kleis of Saugerties was granted a certificate for operating over certain streets in Kingston as part of a line to Saugerties, subject to certain provisions in a consent by Kingston. Kleis is to file with the commission by June 8 a schedule of time of his trips which he is to maintain unless changed with the consent of the commission.

Edward G. Klemm of Saugerties was also granted a certificate to operate between Kingston and Saugerties, under the same conditions under which Kleis will operate. Charles T. Kidd of Kingston was granted a certificate to operate in certain streets in Kingston as part of a Kingston-New Paltz line, subject to the provisions of a consent by Kingston.

Henry Myers of Tillson was also granted a certificate to operate in certain Kingston streets as part of a line to Tillson in the town of Rosendale.

The certificates were granted following hearings by Chairman Charles B. Hill. There was no opposition to the applications. All the certificates are subject to Kingston ordinances and regulations of the State Highway Commission and are non-assignable, without the consent of the commission.

CLERK SUGAR SENDS CHECK FOR $100

Rev. John J. Hickey who is a member of the committee soliciting preliminary subscriptions to the Community Fund today received a check for $100 from Judge A. T. Clearwater together with the following letter from the donor:

My Dear Dean Hickey: I beg to acknowledge receipt for your favor of the 9th inst. Always it is a pleasure to contribute to a worthy cause, a pleasure greatly enhanced when the avenue of contribution is so distinguished a prelate of the church as you. As a heretic who many years ago severed allegiance to the bishop of Rome and has long since passed the golden milestone of life, I find it not unpleasant to renew friendships which were severed in the sixteenth century. Therefore I enclose my total contribution of $100 which I pay now, not by way of example to others but by way of making sure that the fund will receive my contribution while I have the money to sustain it.

Always with many kind regards and best wishes I am as ever,

Very Sincerely Yours,

A. T. CLEARWATER

20 TONS OF SUGAR ARRIVES DAILY

Since the opening of navigation sugar shipments to Kingston have been mostly made by water, and the Central Hudson Line boats for the past few weeks have been bringing cargoes of sugar averaging from 20 to 30 tons daily.

One of the large wholesale dealers states that Kingston is the main distributing center in this territory.

The sugar problem still remains a puzzle in Kingston, and housewives find it difficult to get enough to lay any aside for the coming season.

Health Board Milk Report Omits Amount of Butterfat as Given in Previous Reports—Two Dealers Not Up to Bacteria Standard.

The monthly milk report submitted to the board of health Tuesday evening at the regular monthly session omits all reference to the amount of butterfat found in the milk examined, and gives only the bacteria count. The city milk standard requires at least 3.5 per cent butterfat and not over 200,000 bacteria per cubic centimeter.

The report submitted shows that two of the dealers are not up to the standard on the bacteria count, being reported "over 300,000 bacteria," and how many fail to meet the butterfat standard of course cannot be ascertained from the report. The report submitted to the board follows:

Obregon Government Sends Mission In Search Of Former President, Supposed To Be Between Apizaco And Esperanza—No More Fighting Likely.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Vera Cruz, Mexico, May 12.—General Obregon's revolutionary government has dispatched a commission to locate Carranza and guarantee his safe conduct out of the country. If the former president accepts the offer he will be escorted to Vera Cruz and put aboard a steamer bound for a foreign port.

Carranza was supposed today to be between Esperanza and Apizaco, on the Mexican national railway. He is accompanied by 4,000 troops who remained loyal and went with him into flight. Carranza has not been assassinated nor will he be, it was stated authoritatively today.

It was not considered likely that there will be any fighting between the forces of the new government and Carranza's small army.

PHILLIPS TO TAKE OVER C. M. B. A.

State Examiner Finds Association Insolvent—Members Will Be Reinsured With the American Insurance Union of Columbus, Ohio.

An order directing Jesse S. Phillips, New York state superintendent of insurance to assume control of affairs of the Catholic Mutual Benefit Association and immediately to reinsure all its members with the American Insurance Union at Columbus, Ohio, was issued on Mr. Phillips's application by Supreme Court Justice A. J. Rodenback in Rochester on Tuesday.

Mr. Phillips's petition was made after an examination of affairs of the C. M. B. A. by an examiner for the New York state insurance department had disclosed assets of $328,709.33 and liabilities of $595,416.85. Members of the C. M. B. A. under the court order and contract, may continue their insurance with the American Insurance Union from May 13, 1920, to May 31, 1920, by paying the assessment for May. Members who desire to be insured after May 31 may do so by paying the level rate at the ages attained in 1920, according to the table of rates in the contract.

Superintendent Phillips said that the merger would make it possible for members to continue their insurance without being liable to assessments for the payment of death claims of the C. M. B. A. now unpaid. Under the contract the American Insurance Union is obliged to pay to the liquidator of the C. M. B. A. 30 per cent of the gross contributions for one year of all members who accept the contract. The contribution will be applied on the payment of balances remaining unpaid on outstanding death claims of the C. M. B. A. John J. Hynes of Buffalo, supreme president of the C. M. B. A., said today that if all C. M. B. A. members accepted the contract the 30 per cent contribution, together with the present assets of the C. M. B. A., would be sufficient to pay all death claims in full.

There were two flourishing branches of the C. M. B. A. in this city a few years ago, St. Mary's Branch, No. 133, that met at St. Mary's Hall, 166 Broadway, and St. Joseph's Branch, No. 195, that met at 5 Railroad avenue. St. Mary's Branch still meets at St. Mary's Hall, the president being Richard Murphy.

WHY SCOUTS ASK POOL AS SUGAR SHARE OF FUND PRICE REMEDY

Figgs Announces New Plan for Refiners to Unite in Securing Cuban and Other Crops Without Competition—Believes Refiners Will Accept.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Washington, May 12.—A new proposal for sugar manufacturers to pool their buying of raw sugar in Cuba and other foreign markets, to reduce speculative bidding for the raw product, is under consideration by the department of justice, it was announced today.

Assistant Attorney General Howard E. Figgs today declared that the plan projected is in tentative shape for presentation to the refiners as a group. Many of the refiners, it is believed, are ready to accede to the suggestion.

The suggestion will not be laid formally before the refiners until the requirements of the essential industries during the present year are determined, a matter which is now being threshed out by a special committee of refiners at New York.

The needs of approximately 3,000 consumers among the preserving and canning manufacturers are being considered.

When the needs of the essential sugar users are defined the department will decide definitely whether curtailment is necessary among the so-called non-essential consumers, such as candy and soft drink manufacturers.

It was announced at the department today that vigorous measures are to be invoked to assure sugar in sufficient quantities for householders generally, not only for their table needs, but also for fruit preserving.

The department announced that its campaign to eliminate the speculation from the sugar market already is beginning to show results. This move, officials said, has effectively checked further unreasonable price increases and has slightly increased the amount of sugar available for small consumers.

RECORD OF THE SALVATION ARMY

Following is an Informative Article on the Salvation Army in Connection With the Community Fund Campaign:

What is the Salvation Army? The Salvation Army is a religious body, existing in two phases—namely, the evangelistic, which is the primary, and the social relief, which was made necessary by the evangelistic, and which operates to give permanency to many of its most important results. It was founded by the late General William Booth, in London, in 1865, and was first known as The Christian Mission. It derives its name from the fact that it works for the salvation of mankind from all forms of moral, spiritual and temporal distress. Its government is military in form and its tactics militant and aggressive.

The work of the Salvation Army in Kingston is being actively carried on along the above lines and at the present time is in a healthy condition and work is being performed to the extent of the corps facilities and equipment. To carry on this work for the ensuing year calls for a budget which amounts to $6,597.60.

This amount will be expended in the following way:
General running expense including property maintenance, rent of officers' quarters, light, heat, telephones, printing, stationery, postage, transportation, special meetings, furniture and fittings for hall and quarters, band maintenance, missionary efforts, all relief, and supervision, $3,569.60.
Repairs and alterations to interior of building, $1,000.
All salaries which includes caretaker, assistant and officer in charge $2,028.

Of the total amount of the budget $1,597.60 will be derived from collections at meetings, Xmas Kettle collections, sale of old clothing, etc. The above amounts do not allow for any expansion of our work this year, the statement of last year showing an income of $8,869.89 of which $2,000 was applied on the mortgage of several years' standing.

All moneys received are subject to the stiffest kind of economy in their expenditure and the original vouchers for which are in turn subjects to a very careful inspection every three months by an official auditor. The work is carried on at as close a margin as is practicable, and still render a proper and worth while service.

Some of the statistics for the past twelve months are as follows:

Open air or street meetings held	97
Estimated attendance at same	16,125
Public meetings in hall	215
Actual attendance at same	7,369
Actual attendance at 52 sessions of Sunday school	2,915
Other meetings, including organized work with a boys' organization and separate girls' organization doing work of a similar nature to scouting	120
Actual attendance at these other meetings	3,127
Total actual attendance at all meetings held in the S. A. Building	13,411
Applicants for work	60
Work secured for	45

Our relief work includes a Christmas dinner to 350 persons, Christmas treat of clothing and toys to 325 children; Other meals given out during year, 200; Transportation outside of city, 13; Transportation in city, 50; Rent paid for 3 families; Tons of coal distributed, 4; Medicine distributed, 5 families; Furniture (articles), 20 Articles of clothing, 250; Pairs of shoes, 40; Sleeping accommodation afforded, 100.

The above report does not include the hours spent in visitation or the number of families seen by the officers.

All the above work was attended to or under the direct supervision of the commanding officers of the local corps.

During the year 120 converts knelt at the army's altar and confessed their desire to lead a better life.

Six paroled prisoners from various penal institutions have been regularly interviewed each month and a report submitted on their progress.

There are other incidental items not included in above report as it would make the report too lengthy. These figures and other information are most respectfully submitted for the benefit of the public.

The Most Welcome Tire That Ever Came to Market

Men Who Appreciate Superlative Values Prefer The Brunswick

In every great tire factory, the chief question is: "How much can we give for the money?" And the product depends on the policy adopted.

Every man who has become acquainted with Brunswick Tires knows that Brunswick standards are again evident. This famous concern—noted as a leader in every line it entered since 1845—has once more proved that its policy is right.

A perfect tire is simply a matter of knowledge and standards and skill. No secrets nor patents prevent making an ideal tire.

But standards come first. For in tire making there is vast room for skimping, for subtle economies, for hidden shortcomings. Makers without the highest standards don't build high-grade tires.

The Brunswick organization of tire makers includes a brilliant staff of technical experts. Not a man among them has spent less than 20 years in handling rubber.

Each is a master of his craft. And the new ideas they bring to the attention of Brunswick directors receive sincere consideration.

Every proved betterment is adopted unanimously.

The Brunswick Tire is a combination of acknowledged features—plus Brunswick standards of manufacture.

The result is a super-tire, the like of which you have never known before. The kind of a tire you will gladly join in welcoming.

Not Brunswicks cost NO more than like-type tires.

Try ONE Brunswick. We promise a surprise. And we feel certain that you will want ALL Brunswicks.

Then good tires will have a new meaning to you.

CITY MAY HAVE A CHILD NURSE

Health Board Discusses Taking Up Four Summer Months For Child Welfare Work—Other Matters Before Session—Reports of Officers.

The state department of health is anxious for Kingston to again adopt child welfare work, and engage a trained nurse, who will make house to house calls and tell mothers how to care for their babies.

The board of health last year spent several hundred dollars in this way and the matter of doing it again this summer came up for discussion at the regular monthly meeting of the board of health held Tuesday evening at the city hall. Mayor Canfield presided with Commissioners Michael, Maher, Huhne and Kaufman present. After some discussion Commissioner Michael's motion that the child welfare committee and health officer be given power to take up the work during June, July, August and September, if they deem it advisable, was adopted.

If a child welfare nurse is hired by the board she will be given the use of the police commissioners' room, formerly the recorder's court, on the first floor of the city hall, as her headquarters, where she will be found when not making her calls. She will probably be paid a salary of $190 a month or more.

What Milk Dealers Suggest.
Miss Easton, the bacteriologist, brought to the attention of the board the fact that some of the retail dealers think it no more than fair that the milk they handle should be tested on the farms before being delivered to them.

The board has no objection to making tests free of charge, but believe it is up to the individual dealer to furnish all samples he desires tested to the laboratory.

Several Not Up to Standard.
In another column will be found the milk report for April. The board believed it would be a good idea for those dealers who have not met the standard to furnish the board with samples of all milk they buy from farms to have it tested and see where the fault lies.

Miss Easton said she had not made the butterfat test, and suggested that it be made only once every three months, as it would be found to average the same each month.

Taking the butterfat average of the March report as the average for the April report, where the amount of butterfat is not given, over half the dealers in the city fail to meet the city milk standard.

LOCAL MILK PRICES.

April 1 the Dairyman's League reduced the price of milk about two cents a quart and this reduction is to be continued in force this month. Even in New York city the consumer has received some benefit from this reduction, which was made by the producers from a combination of business and disinterested motives. The League reasoned that the way to reduce the high cost of living was to begin to sell for lower prices and also that lower prices would bring about an increased demand, thus putting a stop to the slaughter of dairy cattle.

Up to date the milk dealers in Kingston have made no reduction in the retail price of milk that they are paying two cents a quart less for than they were paying before April 1. They are pocketing the two cents and offering no explanation to either producer or consumer. The aggregate amount of this added profit is enormous. The producers, who have the bulk of the capital invested in the milk business, who run all the risk and do most of the work, are receiving about 6 1/2 cents a quart for the milk that consumers pay 15 cents a quart for. The difference represents the cost of distribution and the profits of the distributors, which have been increased by about one-third since April 1.

In this milk situation Kingston has one of the rankest illustrations of the manner in which distributors, in combination, can and do nullify attempts made by producers to reduce the cost of their product to the consumer. As to the quality of the milk for which Kingston is paying such an inexcusably high price, readers are referred to the report of the Board of Health, printed in another column, and of which The Freeman will have more to say at a later date.

We have a lot of public officials in Albany and Washington who are drawing fat salaries on the representation that they are protecting the people from impure food and extortionate prices. Up to date we have not heard that they have done anything about the quality or price of milk in Kingston. It is time they did something to justify their existence.

TYPICALLY GERMAN.

During the World War whenever the Germans decided upon some atrocious policy or practice they first prepared the way for it by accusing the Allies of doing the same. This calculating policy no doubt accounts for the following passage in the German War Book issued by the Kaiser's General Army Staff: "That prisoners should be killed only in the event of extreme necessity" is today universally admitted. But that these considerations have not always been decisive is proved by the shooting of 2,000 Arabs at Jaffa in 1799 by Napoleon: of the prisoners in the rising of La Vendee; in the Carlist war; in Mexico; and the American War of Secession, where it was generally a case of deliverance from burdensome supervision and the difficulties of maintenance."

Of course, this make-believe history of the shooting of prisoners in the American War of Secession, in order to escape the burden of their maintenance or for any other reason, is a lie out of the whole cloth. No such charge was ever made by either side against the other even when the passions of war were at their height. The charge of neglect of prisoners was made against both sides of our great conflict, and in the blockaded South, with quinine selling at $1000 an ounce and most necessities scarce or almost prohibitive in price, prisoners, soldiers and civilians alike, often suffered cruel privations; but it remained for the Germans, for reasons of their own, to charge that prisoners, North or South, were slaughtered in order to get rid of the burden they involved.

Thomas Morris died recently in Grand Island, Nebraska, at the "astonishing" age of 126, and John Shell is still getting about in his native Kentucky at the alleged age of 122. Apparently centenarians just "happen" without the help of the ether or wonder of living to lead up to their shaky senescence. It is pretty certain that no grand doctor claims ing to possess an "elixir" has ever succeeded in putting either himself or another into the venerable company of exceptional mortals.

SCOUT RALLY DAY PREPARATIONS

Saturday, May 29, promises to be a great day for Scouting in Ulster county. There is keen rivalry between the twenty-seven Scout Troops of this county. Some of the troops have already shown their superiority in basketball and in baseball, triumphing every team that dared to challenge them. This will be more of a test of the individual Scout which will give something of an idea of the work being done in each troop.

The entry blanks have been sent out. Only Boy Scouts in good standing will be allowed to participate. No boy will be allowed to enter more than two events. The events are: 70 yard dash, running high jump, running broad jump, baseball throw, first aid race (team of 3), pup tent erection (team of 2), and signaling with two flags (semaphore code, team of 2).

Each troop will be limited to one team each in these events made up of teams.

It is expected that if the day is good that the people will be there to see how well the boys have been trained.

AT THE THEATERS.

Three Fine Picture Programs to be Seen Tonight.

Eugene O'Brien at Keeney's tonight in the "Broken Melody" is a coherent, finely conceived play that strikes a responsive chord in the hearts of everyone, and the star's characterization of the leading role is sympathetic and penetrating. Gaumont News, Topics of the Day, Mutt and Jeff cartoon comics and the Pathe Review are other novelties.

"A Manhattan Knight," starring George Walsh, the athletic star, at the Opera House tonight, will appeal to lovers of excitement and thrills and deep mystery melodramas. Mildred Harris (Mrs. Charlie Chaplin) in "Forbidden" at the Auditorium tonight, gives the patrons an opportunity to see both these stars on the same program. Charlie Chaplin in "His Million Dollar Job" is also shown. Tomorrow William S. Hart in "His Hour of Manhood" and Enid Bennett in "The Hope Chest." Thomas Meighan, Gloria Swanson, Theodore Roberts and an all star cast in "Male and Female." George M. Barre's famous novel adapted from "The Admirable Crichton" will be presented at Keeney's for three days, starting tomorrow.

The brilliant New York farce, "Up in Mabel's Room," will be presented at the Kingston Opera House Saturday matinee and night.

GIFTS OF BOOKS

300 Volumes to Library As Memorial to Rev. Burrows.

Kingston City Library has just been greatly enriched by the gift of some three-hundred odd books which composed the valuable library of the late Rev. Thomas Burrows, at one time rector of Holy Spirit Church, this city. This gift, made by the widow and daughter of Mr. Burrows, is in the nature of a memorial and is highly appreciated and prized. The many volumes of valuable reference works along ecclesiastical lines are the more acceptable as such works are not often found in small public libraries and are in many instances too expensive and rare to be found in private libraries.

As long as he lived, Mr. Burrows continued to be interested in the welfare of Kingston, his home for so many years, and such a memorial as this gift of books is indeed a living and fitting one.

The first and second degrees were conferred on two candidates in the abbreviated form. One application was received. At the next meeting, May 19, the first and second degrees will be conferred in full form on four candidates. The Grange has decided to work the degrees once every three months instead of working them whenever candidates are ready as has been the old custom. A committee was also appointed to arrange for a private dance in the near future.

OPINION IN BOUTON CASE

Text of Court of Appeals Decision Which Reverses Judgment of Judge Nichols and is Disappointing to Creditors of Defunct Kline Brokerage Firm.

The unanimous decision of the court of appeals reversing the decision of Judge Nichols, and that of the appellate division in the action brought by Maud E. Bouton on behalf of herself and the other creditors of John D. Kline, who for years conducted a stock brokerage business in this city, interests a large number of citizens of the city and county who were Kline's creditors, and hoped by that action, to whom the decision is a great disappointment.

Kline failed in June, 1917, owing many people large sums of money on his stock dealings. Miss Bouton claimed Kline was the correspondent of Charles H. Van Buren & Company, a large, old, well known firm of New York brokers, members of the stock exchange; that through Kline, the Van Burens were carrying for her upon margin ten shares of the capital stock of the American Locomotive Company for which she had paid them through Kline certain margins and commissions; that she had never ordered the sale of the stock, never received any notice of the time and place of the sale, that no demand had been made upon her for additional margins, that prior to the action Kline had made a general assignment to Judge James Jenkins for the benefit of his creditors, that there was in the hands of the Van Burens belonging to Kline's creditors, $11,000. That there were many residents of Ulster county who were creditors of Kline for whom the Van Burens were carrying accounts at the time of his failure, and that she brought the action to avoid multiplicity of suits in order to determine her rights and the rights of the other persons in the fund in the hands of the Van Burens. She demanded an accounting of all the matters involved in Kline's dealings.

The action was brought by William H. Grogan as attorney, with Judge Jenkins as counsel. Sullivan & Cromwell, New York lawyers, appeared for the Van Burens, and retained Judge Clearwater as counsel. A demurrer was interposed to the complaint upon the ground that the action was not maintainable. The demurrer was argued by Judge Clearwater for the Van Burens and Judge Jenkins for Miss Bouton before Judge Nichols at the December, 1918, term of the supreme court in this city.

Judge Clearwater contended that it was a common error upon the part of the bar and a considerable portion of the bench that whenever a fund of considerable amount existed against which different persons might have a claim, an action in equity could be brought by any one of them for an apportionment and division of the fund under the pretense that such an action would avoid a multiplicity of suits. He said that rule only applied where the person bringing the suit had a common or general interest of the same legal character as all the other claimants, but in cases where the claims rested upon different conditions, such an action was not permissible. Judge Jenkins contended as there was no dispute that the Van Burens had $11,000 which belonged to Kline's creditors, no dispute but that Miss Bouton was a creditor to some extent, she had the right to bring an action for a distribution of the fund, that its proper distribution should be made by the court through her.

After an extended argument and the submission of briefs, Judge Nichols sustained the contention of Judge Jenkins, overruled the demurrer, and directed judgment for Miss Bouton. The Van Burens appealed to the appellate division, which, by a divided court, sustained Judge Nichols, and decided in Miss Bouton's favor. The Van Burens then appealed to the court of appeals, which, as recently stated in The Freeman, unanimously reversed both Judge Nichols and the appellate division, upheld Judge Clearwater's contention as to the law, and decided in favor of the Van Burens, the opinion being written by Chief Judge Hiscock, Judges Chase, Hogan, Cardozo, Crane and Elkus. Judge McLaughlin's opinion is so far reaching so conclusively states an important question of law and interests so many people in this vicinity that it is here given in full.

McLaughlin, J. This appeal is by permission from an order of the appellate division, third department affirming (two of the justices dissenting) an interlocutory judgment overruling a demurrer to the complaint. The demurrer was upon the ground that the complaint did not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action.

The complaint alleges, in substance, that on or about the 1st of March, 1913, one John D. Kline "as agent, partner or correspondent" of the appellants Van Buren and Day, took charge of a stock and grain brokerage office at Kingston, N. Y., that between the date named and June 1, 1917, he took from various people a large number of orders for the purchase and sale of grain, stocks, bonds and other securities; transmitted the same to and they were received by said brokers, who had an office in the city of New York; that on the 1st of June, 1917, such brokers were carrying on margin a large number of shares of stock of the American Locomotive Company, for the value of $628,222, for which she had paid them, through Kline, certain charges for margins and commissions; that she never ordered the sale of such stock; never received any notice of the time and place of sale; no demand had been made upon her for additional margins and she does not know whether the appellants still hold such stock or have sold the same and hold the proceeds for her; that prior to the commencement of the action the defendant Jenkins was appointed the general assignee of Kline for the benefit of creditors, and that statements had been rendered to him by appellants which show an indebtedness to Jenkins, as such general assignee, of $11,000; and treating Van Buren and Day as brokers for the principals in the various transactions, there is due from them to such principals, growing out of the orders received through the Kingston office, $55,000; and that by this action a multiplicity of suits to determine the rights of the plaintiff and the other persons on whose behalf the action is brought, will be avoided. The judgment demanded that an accounting be had, to the end that it may be determined the amount of charges which Van Buren and Day have against the plaintiff and others on whose behalf the action is brought; that an apportionment and payment of such charges be made among them and the respective certificates of stock delivered to the owners thereof; that it also be determined the amount of money held by them as proceeds derived from the sale of stocks and transactions in relation to the matters set forth in the complaint, and directing payment to the persons entitled thereto.

I am of the opinion the complaint does not state a cause of action. So far as appears, Van Buren and Day are solvent and able to respond to any judgment which plaintiff may obtain against them. Indeed, it does not appear there is any dispute between plaintiff and them, that they have refused to deliver the stock to her or have made any demand upon her for future payments. There is no allegation in the complaint, or any facts stated, from which an inference can be drawn, that the plaintiff and the principals for whom she is assuming to act have a community of right or interest in the subject matter of the action, nor community of interest in the question of law and facts involved in the general controversy. The only fact common to them is that orders were taken through the Kingston office, and each transferred to the New York office by separate and distinct orders. It is obvious that to establish a cause of action against defendants on such orders, different proof will be required in each instance. A representative action cannot be maintained unless it appears from proper allegations in the complaint that the plaintiff not only has a cause of action, but that he is representative of a common or general interest of others. Unless both facts appear, a demurrer is well taken. It is, therefore, incumbent upon the plaintiff to show why an equitable action is necessary to secure her rights (Marsh v. Kaye, 168 N. Y. 196), and that fact does not here appear.

Where the liability sought to be enforced is limited to an amount inadequate to satisfy all the claims, then an action in equity may be maintained on behalf of all the creditors, in which the fund can be applied ratably on all claims. (Gaffanti v. National Surety Co., 198 N. Y. 452.) In the instant case there is no fund to be distributed among the creditors of Van Buren and Day, except such as may be derived from judgments recovered against them, as to which no protection is required. The only thing to be reached is the personal liability of Van Buren and Day, and the presumption is that they are financially able to respond to any judgment which the plaintiff may recover. She, therefore, has an adequate remedy at law. The property which they hold for the plaintiff and the principals is not a trust fund, except in the broad sense in which it may be said that every man's property is a trust fund for the payment of his debts, but no action in equity, so far as I have been able to discover, has been instituted by a creditor at large to administer the estate of a debtor for the benefit of creditors generally. Bankruptcy proceedings are the only means to attain such an end. (Marsh v. Kaye, supra.)

It is urged, however, that the action can be maintained to prevent a multiplicity of suits. But there is no allegation in the complaint that any of the principals for whom the plaintiff is assuming to act has brought, or threatens to bring, an action against Van Buren and Day, and if that fact appears it would not enable the action to be maintained for the purpose stated. This is so thoroughly well stated that the citation of authorities seems hardly necessary, but see Warnock Uniform Co. v. Garifolas (224 N. Y. 522; Marsh v. Kaye (168 N. Y. 196); Dykman v. Keeney (154 N. Y. 438); Empire State Savings Bank of Buffalo v. Beard (151 N. Y. 638); O'Brien v. Fitzgerald (143 N. Y. 377).

The judgment appealed from, therefore, should be reversed, the question certified answered in the negative, and the demurrer sustained, with costs in all courts.

RAISE MINIMUM.

K. of C. Places 6,312 Ex-Service Men in 10 Days.

On account of the steady increase in the high cost of living the Knights of Columbus employment bureaus in eastern and middle-west cities have raised from $18 to $20 per week the minimum wage at which they solicit jobs for ex-service men. This step is expected to raise the average wage for jobs found by the K. of C. from $33 to $35 per week.

During the past ten days the Knights received 7,537 applications from employers for former service men, 6,312 of whom were placed. This indicates increased activity in both the supply and demand of labor. Most of the jobs were for skilled workers.

LOUGHRAN DIDN'T LOSE HIS VEST

Bernard J. Loughran, the enterprising superintendent of the L. F. Bannon Plumbing, Heating & Contracting Company, looks dolefully at a handsome vest which comprises part of his wardrobe and wonders whether there is a chance of the vest keeping company again with the pants and coat with which it formerly made up one of his dressiest and classiest suits.

Some time ago Mr. Loughran decided to have the suit in question cleaned and pressed for Sunday, for he anticipated that the past Sunday would be clear and he decided to take advantage of such weather to enjoy one of his customary constitutional, of which he had been deprived during the rigorous Sundays of the winter and the rainy Sundays of the spring. But on examining the suit more closely, he discovered that the vest was in perfect condition and only the coat and pants needed pressing. Mr. Loughran being one of the few individuals who still use the old fashioned name, "pants," in preference to "trousers."

Accordingly he neatly folded his coat and pants and went forth in search of a new tailor. Mr. Loughran believing that he always should distribute his patronage as equitably as possible. The door of the tailor shop which he visited was closed and locked and there was no indication of anyone being inside the place, but as he was turning away from the door, he noticed a stranger nearby and accosted him with:

"Here, boy, take the coat and pants; I'll keep the vest."

The stranger looked somewhat surprised, but Mr. Loughran admonished him to "have the things ready when I call," and departed to supervise a job whose intricacy kept his mind fully occupied for several days.

Finally he decided to get his coat and pants, and called on the tailor, who did not at first understand what he was talking about and not having Mr. Loughran among his clientele, supposed that Mr. Loughran was looking for a second-hand coat and pants and offered him several varieties from which to make a selection. Mr. Loughran spurned the second-hand clothing and demanded his own coat and pants. Explanations were accompanied by surprise on the part of both Mr. Loughran and the tailor. The tailor had not received the coat or pants.

Somewhere the coat and pants are waiting for Mr. Loughran to claim them. Perhaps they are being worn by the stranger to whom he turned them over at the locked door of the tailor shop. Perhaps they have been sold and the proceeds used by the vendor in reducing temporarily the high cost of living. Mr. Loughran doesn't know but he would like to learn all about it. He would like to have a short talk with the stranger. He has some deep thoughts he would like to express. It may be that he will be compelled to keep his thoughts to himself—along with the lonesome vest.

BIG DEMAND FOR NEGRO LABORERS

Nearly every day lately numbers of negroes from the south are arriving in town en route for the brickyards north of this city, where they are being employed. The rainy weather has held work up on the yards but notwithstanding the high cost of building in the large cities there is a growing demand for Hudson river brick that are bringing a good price per thousand. It costs the brickyard owners considerable money to bring the negro laborers from Virginia and they are a shifting class, quite a number quitting their job after a week and going elsewhere.

Tuesday evening about 25 negroes, drill runners from the Shandaken mountain tunnel job who had come down from Allaben, went in a body north on the West Shore railroad to near Plattsburg to work on a contract held by another contractor, leaving the Shandaken tunnel contractor short of men.

The demand for negro labor is so great they are paid from $4 to $5 a day and railroad fare to "jump" their job and go elsewhere. They are also furnished good sleeping quarters and plenty to eat at a reasonable rate.

50TH ANNIVERSARY OF LADIES' AID

Immanuel Lutheran Church Society
Fittingly Celebrates Half-Century of Achievement With Church Service and Social Celebration—Three Original Members With Society.

One of the most successful events in the congregational life of Immanuel Lutheran Church, Livingston street, was the fiftieth anniversary celebration of the Ladies' Aid Society. This society was organized May 1, 1870, by the then Pastor C. F. Stutz. Its prime purpose was to help gather money to help the young and struggling congregation to its feet. The history of the society records some notable achievements such as the building of the parsonage which was paid by the Ladies' Aid without the help of the rest of the congregation. The bell was also presented to the congregation and the addition made ten years ago paid entirely by the society. Many smaller gifts of money were made to the congregation, to missions, to orphan's homes and for other church and benevolent purposes. The society at present numbers 114 members. The officers are: Mrs. A. Wiedemann, Sr., president; Mrs. John Krueger, Sr., vice-president; Mrs. C. Schleede, financial secretary; Mrs. A. Walker, secretary; Mrs. C. Petri, treasurer. Three of the original members are still with the society, viz., Mrs. Henriette Meier, Mrs. Analia Gronemeyer, Mrs. Maria Teichler. Mrs. Bailey, now a member of Trinity Church, was also a charter member.

The anniversary was ushered in by a solemn service on the evening of May 2. The ladies entered the church in a body, about seventy being in line. The pastor preached, from Luke 8, 1-3, holding up the first women's organization of the New Testament as an example for all Christian women to emulate. Mr. Bruening presided at the organ and the choir rendered an appropriate selection. The charter members occupied seats of honor at the altar. A history of the society was read in German and English after the sermon. The church was tastefully decorated with palms, ferns and white and yellow flowers.

The social side of the celebration occurred on Friday evening, May 7. An entertainment was given in which the members of the Aid took the parts. The following program was rendered:

Plano Solo—Silver Waves Amanda Luedtke
Dialog—Painting the Church Red... Mrs. Miller, president Ladies' Aid.
Mrs. L. Heppner.
Mrs. Taylor, vice president Mrs. W. Isemann.
Mrs. Layman, secretary Mrs. W. Petrie.
Mrs. Tavern, treasurer Mrs. H. Luedtke, Jr.
Mrs. Nolan, calling comm Mrs. C. Schleede.
Vocal Duet—Softly the Night Breeze is Sighing
Elsie Pufpaff, soprano; Lydia Kellermann, alto; F. Elmes, accompanist.
Dialog—Schicksalswinke (German).

Mrs. Gertrud, mother Mrs. A. Walker.
Agate, daughter Mrs. C. Petri.
Alma, daughter Mrs. A. Luedtke.
Nanette, servant Miss Mildred Luedtke.
Tante Jette Mrs. F. Sahloff.
Plano Solo—Papillons D'Amour H. Bruening.

The program was elegant and excellently executed. The largest audience in many days crowded the school rooms and all performers were given liberal applause. After the program the floor was cleared, the tables were spread and those present were treated by the society to sandwiches, coffee, cake, cream, and the men to cigars. Withal, it was one of the most enjoyable and successful events in the history of the congregation.

The members of the church are now looking forward to the double anniversary of the congregation and of the building of the church which will take place in October and extend over a week.

May this esteemed Ladies' Aid be privileged to celebrate its diamond jubilee twenty-five years hence. May its activities and its sphere of influence and usefulness ever increase.

TAUNTON TEXTILE WORKERS RIOT

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Taunton, Mass., May 12.—Two policemen were injured and five strikers including one woman, were arrested in a riot today near the mills of the Taunton Cotton Company's plant when a large number of strikers clashed with more than 400 strikebreakers. The strikers and their sympathizers crossed to the middle of the Taunton bridge to the town of Raynham and on neutral territory jeered the police and prevented other workmen from crossing the bridge to work.

Ascension Day Service.

Ascension Day service will be held in the Spring Street German Lutheran Church tomorrow evening at 7:30. The subject of the sermon will be, "I Will Leave My Jesus Never." The Ascension Day is not an important day in the Christian calendar. The ascension of Christ was the crowning of His saving work. It is worth while to celebrate it by coming together in God's house to worship the risen and ascended Lord.

Young Ball Players.

The attention of those who send to The Freeman false or garbled accounts of baseball games between the many boys' teams of the city is called to the fact that such action is a misdemeanor and makes them liable to arrest.

WILSON RECEIVES

The Belgian ambassador, Baron de Cartier de Marchienne, will be received by the president at 11 o'clock and the minister from Uruguay, Dr. Jacobo Varela, at 11:15 o'clock.

Toohey's Body Found.

Returning from a shad fishing trip Tuesday morning Lemuel Schroeder and son, Edward, found floating in the Hudson river at Newburgh the body of Michael Toohey, night watchman on the steamer B. B. Odell, of the Central-Hudson Line, who had been missing since April 20. The supposition is that Toohey fell overboard while making a tour of inspection and was drowned.

Ice Houses Sold.

Minot W. Seaman has sold his two ice houses, one in the town of Catskill and one in the town of Athens, on the west bank of the Hudson river, to the Ice Service Company, a Delaware corporation.

Truly, a Profession

"Embalming," says a noted historian in writing on the customs and manners of the ancient Egyptians, "was as much a profession as the practice of medicine, and the bodies of all except the poorest of the poor were in some measure preserved against decay."

Modern embalming as pursued by William C. Kukuk of The Funeral Home at No. 167 Tremper avenue, Kingston, is truly as much a profession as that of the practice of medicine.

However, in the practice of his profession, Mr. Kukuk makes no discrimination or distinction. He does not consider the preservation of the body the chief function of embalming, although by his methods and his thoroughness, preservation is assured for an indefinite length of time. Mr. Kukuk rather holds that sanitation is the primary office of embalming.

Embalming, as you know, if done properly kills all germs, preventing and checking the spread of contagious and infectious diseases. Its chief purpose therefore is to save, if possible, other lives. It will be apparent from this that there cannot be any distinction or discrimination in its use. It will also be equally apparent that the work must be carefully and thoroughly performed.

CITY NOW OWNS FISHER'S ROW

Buy Property to Widen Broadway For West Shore Crossing Elimination—Price Paid $18,500—Tenants to Pay Rent to City.

At a recent meeting of the common council the aldermen adopted a resolution giving Mayor Canfield, Corporation Counsel W. D. Brinnier and a committee of three from the council, the power to go ahead and purchase the property on Broadway needed for the West Shore crossing elimination. The committee from the council is Aldermen Higgins, Kullman and Warren.

It is announced that the city, acting through the mayor, corporation counsel and the committee, have purchased from A. Pinova of No. 16 Court street, Brooklyn, the property on the left hand side of Broadway, going uptown, known as Fisher's Row, for the sum of $18,500. This property consists of a number of small one story store buildings, and adjoins the H. W. Palen plant.

The Fisher property is on the site of the old Kingston Carriage Company building, which was later used for a time as a movie house. It was destroyed by fire. The property was acquired by Lew Fisher, who expected to erect a large theatre on the site, and as a preliminary step erected a number of small stores which now are located on the property. The theatre proposition, however, never materialized, and later Mr. Fisher sold to Mr. Pinova.

Among the tenants are Frank L. Brown, occupying Nos. 521-523 Broadway, as an auto supply store; Joseph Schiff at No. 527, as a lunch room; Van's Garage, auto supplies and dealer in automobiles.

The first intimation the tenants had that the property was owned by the city was when the rent checks for May were returned to them by their former landlord. The rent will now be paid to the city from the first of May until the city is ready to tear down the buildings.

It will be remembered at the time the aldermen appointed a committee of three, at the request of Mayor Canfield, that the Mayor stated that negotiations were pending with several of the property owners and that he had obtained what he considered reasonable figures from some of them.

The city will widen Broadway at that point from the Palen plant to Cedar street some thirty feet.

How long will it take? The value of the food material eaten and destroyed each year by one rat is said to amount to two dollars.

A WORD FOR THOSE WHO BOTH WORK AND GIVE

HERE'S TO 300 LOYAL WORKERS

Few of us really like to solicit funds. Yet we do not always stop to realize the loyal service of those who cheerfully go out to explain the needs of the agencies that exist for the common welfare and to receive our pledges for our city's good.

One of the very strongest reasons for the Community Fund Campaign, which presents the appeal of seven agencies in a single day, Sunday, May 16th, has been to lighten the labor of those who give cheerfully of their time and energy for the sake of these causes.

To most of us the request comes only that we give of our money to relieve distress and to make a better city. The campaign workers who make the house to house canvass not only give of their money but also go out to carry from house to house the story of real needs and the opportunity to help in meeting them.

It is fair and right that their task shall be made as light as as possible, that we shall welcome them cordially and respond to the fullest measure of our ability.

ardize the souls of players and spectators, and endanger the morals of youth. Fifth, that because in the Book held sacred God has said "Remember the Sabbath Day to keep it Holy." No body of men, said he, has the right to say that they would set aside the law of God.

The fourth speaker to voice his objections to the measure was the Rev. Willbur F. Stowe, pastor of the Reformed Church of the Comforter. Rev. Stowe opened his remarks by saying that he was a baseball enthusiast, and enjoyed seeing and playing a good game of ball, but he said that he was of the opinion that there was plenty of time to play the game during the week. He said that he believed in a proper way to enjoy Sunday, that he did not believe it was necessary for a person to go home from church and look glum the rest of the day. He added that he represented a membership of 282 of which he was sure that at least 95 per cent if not 100 were opposed to the playing of baseball on Sunday.

The Rev. John J. Dean of Liberty street stated that he opposed the ordinance mainly because it was contrary to the law of God. He said that the Ten Commandments were the basis of all law, civil, social and religious, and that he did not believe that man could nullify the law. He pointed out that no one would think of abrogating such commands as "Thou Shalt Not Kill," "Thou Shalt Not Steal" and "Thou Shalt Not Commit Adultery." The laws of God, said he, were not arbitrary, but were enacted for the welfare of all mankind. Rev. Dean said that the idea that the alderman had to vote according to the will of the constituents was all "rot." "Some people think," he remarked, "that they can go to heaven on a Sunday forenoon, and to hell in the afternoon, making no difference in their salvation." The men said he who were opposed to Sunday ball were the Godly men of the city. Rev. Dean closed his remarks by saying that he did not know if the aldermen went to church or not but that "you have all heard good preaching tonight."

Rev. George M. Cranston, asked the aldermen to forget that he was a preacher and to think only that he stood before them as a man and an American citizen. He said that the great trouble with men is that they forget God, and that the failure of the Jews was due to the fact that they had forgotten God. He also reminded the aldermen of the fact that it had become necessary for the trustees of Wiltwick cemetery to stop ball playing on their grounds because the players did not heed the conditions upon which they were allowed to play there.

Rev. P. N. Chase and Rev. Frank B. Seely, pastor of the Fair Street Reformed Church spoke in opposition to the ordinance along the same lines as the other clergymen. The latter expressed his appreciation of the courtesy shown by Aldermen Martin and Myers in calling a special referendum in their wards. Rev. Chase said that he did not believe the votes in these two wards were satisfactory, and also wanted to know why the alderman of the First ward did not take a referendum in his ward, where he said he was sure there would be a bigger majority against the ordinance than in the other wards.

Speaks In Favor.
Chris J. Flanagan, a lawyer, was the first to take up the cause for those in favor of playing the national game on the seventh day. Mr. Flanagan took exception to the statement that those who favored Sunday baseball were ungodly men. He said that he favored Sunday baseball and that there was not one present who dared say he was ungodly. He said that he was not familiar enough with the subject to discuss it from a spiritual standpoint, but that he was there to talk baseball. In the first place all that they asked was the right to play baseball on some place picked out by the council with the police present to keep order, and that one of the teams be a home team. He pointed to the fact that Sunday baseball was permitted in Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, Hudson, Saugerties and Albany and that those places had as many ministers as did this city. It is no crime, said he, now to play baseball on Sunday under the laws of New York state, but that those in favor of the bill, wanted to make it possible to charge admission in order to defray expenses. It was also his opinion that the aldermen should vote according to the will of their constituents, for it was those people who had elected them. "If your constituents want Sunday baseball and you vote against it you are cowards," No church, said he, expects a person to sit 24 hours within its doors. If a man worships God in the morning, he should spend the afternoon as he sees fit, whether it be automobile riding or playing baseball. Mr. Flanagan asked the members of council to vote for the ordinance.

Ex-Alderman Ralph Mann, who had been invited to sit on the rostrum by motion of Alderman Kirchner, took exception to Rev. Cranston's statement that the Jews had failed. He said that the Jews had not failed, that Roosevelt had one in his cabinet, another was secretary of the state of New York and that numbers of them had served their country in the world war, many of them being given commissions. The former councilman stated that it would be better for the council and for the ministers to preach against profiteering, pointing out that potatoes and coal had taken sudden high advances. Mr. Mann said that he was in favor of closing the town tight, ice cream parlors and all, if this ordinance was voted down.

He Seldom Swears.
Joseph Erena wanted baseball, not for himself, but for the men who worked for him six and a half days a week. He said that if the ministers would take steps to close shoe shining parlors and ice cream stores on Sunday he would be with them. It is all right, he said, for those who have money to buy gas for their autos, but what about the poor boys? Mr. Erena said he believed in God and "I seldom swear, but when I start I go the whole length." He also thought it would be well for the councilmen to look after the profiteers.

Thomas F. Coughlin, another attorney, also spoke in favor of the ordinance. He pleaded in behalf of those men who fought "over there." Baseball, he remarked, had been the making of those men. He also took exception to the statement that it was ungodly to play baseball on Sunday, saying that baseball was played out in the open, and that it would be a good thing if everything that was done on Sunday was done in the open. As for as swearing was concerned, Mr. Coughlin asked if a man who had to stop on a Sunday afternoon to repair his auto did not say something that would not sound good to God. He said that he believed that baseball on Sundays tended to lessen the viler evils.

Mr. Coughlin was the last speaker in favor of the ordinance. Rev. Cranston asked to explain his statement about the Jewish people. He said that he did not mean the Jews failed as individuals but that they had failed as a nation. He further added that there was not another race for whom he held more respect and regard than the Jews.

Alderman Warren, of the First ward, then secured the floor and said that he believed that the only solution to the question was a referendum of the city, and added that the expense involved would be a good expenditure.

Alderman Macholdt stated that he had made a canvass of his ward; that he had called on 410 voters, 52 made no response, 51 voted "no," and the 358 were in favor of the ordinance.

Alderman Roosa said that he believed that the playing of Sunday baseball in any part of the city would decrease the value of property in that vicinity. He said that it was a question of right and wrong, and also alluded to the fact that when he voted against the measure last year he had been told by those in favor of it that he would never be elected to a city office again.

Alderman Warren then offered the following resolution:
"Resolved, that a referendum be taken in the city of Kingston to ascertain whether the people of Kingston desire Sunday baseball or not."

The Vote.
Alderman Schick moved that the resolution be laid on the table. This motion being seconded, a vote was taken resulting as follows: Ayes, 10; Nays, 5. Schick, Leverich, Parish, Higgins, 5; noes, Warren, Lemister, Kirchner, Kullmann, Macholdt, Myers, Martin and Purvis, 8.

Alderman Purvis then called for his ordinance, and there being no second to Alderman Warren's resolution for a referendum the same was withdrawn by him. After a lapse of a few minutes in which the aldermen remained silent and smiled, Alderman Purvis again called for his ordinance. It wanted again for a second when finally Alderman Lemister came to the rescue and made it possible for the ordinance to come to a vote.

The vote resulted as follows:
In favor of Sunday baseball: Warren, Lemister, Kirchner, Kullmann, Macholdt and Purvis, 6.
Against Sunday baseball: Roosa,
